From Fire · Rauchbier

Fifth Street Brewpub · 6.3% ABV · 26 IBUs

This traditional German smoked lager rauchbier is based on a multiple award-winning homebrew recipe from Luke Soposki and was selected by FSB Brewmaster Darren Link from the 2017 DRAFT Best of Show table. Using copious amounts of beechwood-smoked malt in the grain bill, the beer presents flavors of smoked Black Forest ham, bacon, and a warming fire in a European hunting lodge, all on a bed of toasty Bavarian-style breads, and shares similarities with richer Oktoberfestbiers. Savor the deliciousness that comes from fire.

White Peach Beerlini · Lager - American Light

Fifth Street Brewpub · 3.5% ABV · 15 IBUs

This is a low-ABV beer inspired by the peach Bellini Prosecco cocktail with Weekend Brunch at FSB in mind. Peach puree and a bit of natural white peach extract create a light, crisp lager that offers a soft, delicate nose followed by ripe peach flesh flavor and a touch of acidity in the finish. Please note that the flavoring used is made in a facility that also processes nuts.

White Peach Beerlini w/ Passion Fruit · Lager - American Light

Fifth Street Brewpub · 3.5% ABV · 15 IBUs

Starting with a low-ABV lager inspired by the Bellini Prosecco cocktail, natural passion fruit extract has been combined with the original ripe white peach to bend the flavor profile toward the tropical and add a sweet/tart presence with nuances of pineapple, papaya, mango, citrus, and guava. Light and crisp with a soft delicate nose and a touch of acidity in the finish. Please note that the flavorings used are made in a facility that also processes nuts.

Ludwig's · Kölsch

Fifth Street Brewpub · 5.2% ABV · 16 IBUs

FSB Member-Owner Randy Simmons hand-selects beers and breweries to participate in the annual Springboro Oktoberfest; this authentic Kölsch was created to celebrate the 2017 festivities. While the same grain and hops bills found in FSB's 1600 are used during brewing, Ludwig's is fermented with a traditional German ale yeast strain to produce a light, refreshingly malty ale with just a touch of minerals from the recipe's water profile.

Vive La Saison! w/ Pinot Noir · Saison / Farmhouse Ale

Fifth Street Brewpub · 6.5% ABV · 20 IBUs

FSB's original Vive La Saison!, with its traditional fermentation using farmhouse yeast that imparts bits of lighter fruit esters and a touch of spiciness, gets ready for autumn by using Sonoma Valley Pinot Noir grape juice for its secondary fermentation. This gives the beer a blush of color and adds a touch of cherry, raspberry, and strawberry. Vive la saison d'automne!

Better Than #PSL · Belgian Tripel

Fifth Street Brewpub · 7.8% ABV · 25 IBUs

Starting with a Pilsner malt base, this autumn seasonal beer was mashed with 200 lbs. of local butternut squash from our friends at Little Miami Farms and had raw cane sugar added to the boil. The result is a Belgian Tripel that presents a spicy, floral nose and a slightly sweet, slightly spiced flavor offering a very soft, light fruit essence with hints of lightly caramelized sugars balanced by just enough neutral hops to keep the finish clean. Save the pumpkin spice latte for the kids and trade up to something better.
